CALL FOR PROPOSALS

Deadline to submit Friday, September 27, 2019

Join us for the 44th Annual Adolescent Symposium of Texas, the leading conference on adolescents in the Southwest region. This one-day educational event brings together more than 800+ professionals who work with youth in schools, social services, juvenile justice, law enforcement, mental health and other related services. The Symposium includes exhibits, a keynote speaker, and over 30 workshops that focus on current and relevant adolescent issues. CEUs will be available to participants. We invite you to showcase your expertise, training and research by submitting a workshop proposal to the Adolescent Symposium Committee. Please review the proposal requirements below.

Conference focus areas and target audiences: The Adolescent Symposium targets a variety of professionals who want to be in the forefront of meeting the challenges of today's youth and their families. The focus of the Symposium is to "enhance the tool box" for those working with youth. Through intervening and preventing some of the challenges faced by teens today, one positive adult can have a deciding impact on the life of a teen, and as a community, we can provide the best possible strategies to help guide, support, and confront adolescents.
