Mental Health America of Greater Dallas Partners with FamilyWize to Offer Support for Residents to Access Delivery of Prescriptions

DALLAS, April 2, 2020 – Mental Health of America of Greater Dallas is committed to connecting residents to prescription savings resources during the coronavirus pandemic through its partnership with FamilyWize. FamilyWize is an organization focused on improving the health and well-being of individuals, families, and communities. Community residents can now call FamilyWize for free customer support to help them coordinate prescription medication delivery from participating pharmacies. Residents will also continue to receive savings on medications by using the free FamilyWize prescription program card.

“It is essential for our residents to take prescribed medications as directed by their physicians, especially during times when the healthcare system is stressed,” said Bonnie Cook, President and CEO of Mental Health America of Greater-Dallas. “FamilyWize is ensuring that people have the help they need to access pharmacy delivery services as well as more affordable medications during this critical time.”

The free FamilyWize prescription savings card immediately lowers the cost of prescription medications by an average of 45 percent and can be used whether or not you have insurance. For nearly 15 years, FamilyWize has partnered community organizations helping people reduce the cost of their prescription medications. The FamilyWize card can be used at most major retail pharmacies. Registration is not required for the FamilyWize card and there is no eligibility criteria to use it.

“During these times of uncertainty, so many are struggling with the high costs of prescriptions and need help now,” said Vilmarie Gilliam, vice president of partnerships at FamilyWize. “Our support team is here to help people not only access affordable medications, but work with their pharmacies to help deliver prescriptions to their doors.”
